The reality of private aviation.

In today's ever-changing business environment, flying private not only makes travel easier, it can actually save you money. Gaining competitive advantage is key in business today. It can often mean the difference between closing that important deal, or losing it!

N-Jet helps make the most of your travel dollar with multiple programs to meet your travel needs:

CHARTER

Enterprises or individuals with 100 or fewer flight hours annually should consider charter aircraft. If the majority of your trips involve short layovers, chartering is for you.

BLOCK PURCHASE/LEASE

If you require 100 to 200 hours of travel time per year, block purchase/lease is recommended. This may work well if the majority of your travel is to one destination with extended layovers.

OWNERSHIP

For more than 200 hours of travel per year, you should consider whole ownership of a private aircraft.

Contact N-Jet to discuss the right experience for you.

We offer charter, co-ownership and whole ownership. Please contact us for availability of any of the aircraft listed below.
